

After some delays... it's finally here! The first official Marscon Volunteer Communication!

To my fellow Martian Militia, and other interested parties...

Welcome to the first Martain Militia Newsletter, intended solely to update you on the "ongoing" status of this year's Marscon Volunteers department. I had intended to get this out sooner, but like all other things in life, things often get delayed. But hey, its here now! So no more griping!

Just a few things to be included in this first newsletter. First, I hope to get updates (more newsletters) to you on a semi-weekly basis. I know I don't like to not know what's going on, and with the convention coming up in three months or so....things are going to start hopping pretty soon! So look for more issues to be sent out as we progress closer to the con.

Next....We need more people! Yep, A lot more is done behind the scenes than anyone (especially myself) cares to comprehend. Marscon Department heads will be screaming sooner or later for more help. Here's your chance to be a hero! Get your friends involved, and you can have a gang of heroes to take over the galaxy...er...I mean...help the con! The Art Department has specifically expressed an interest in warm bodies, as well I'm sure ConSuite, Ops, Gaming, and all the other departments will soon be asking. So if you like to help out, want to be a hero, impress that geek that gets your blood going, or take over the universe, here's a good place for you! If you have friends and/or enemies that you think would be a good fit for our crew...get them to sign up!

Also, for those whom undertake the tasks of being part of the Martian Militia, there are prizes. They include:

- Martian Militia T-shirts (Not available to ANYONE ELSE, even CONCOM)
- Marscon Patches
- Marscon Bucks (To be used at the dealers room or to pay off that admission rate for next years con! Also a Martian Militia Exclusive)
- Admission to Snarky's Café (Mmmmm....real food!)
- The Thanks, honorable mentions, and never ending gratitude of department heads and staff
- Martian Militia buttons (Yet another exclusive for Martian Militia)
- 3 Prize Drawings ***Martian Militia Exclusive*** (More details coming soon)

Well, that will sum it all up for now. Other than if you received this, its because you expressed interest in volunteering for Marscon. If you have any ideas on how to further promote this organization, help out, or do not wish to receive any future newsletters, please let me know at volunteer08e@marscon.org.

Thank you for your interest, and time, and we will be seeing you again next issue! Also, next issue I would like to have a "roster list" honoring those whom have already given to this years Martian Militia.

Until next time!
Matt Brogmus
Head/Coordinator of the Martian Militia

P.S. – BIG TIME THANKS GOES TO KRISTI HANSON FOR FINISHING OF THE MARTIAN MILITIA LOGO!
